On December 6, 2004, Johnia Hope Berry was brutally stabbed to death in her Knoxville apartment. The murderer has not been located or arrested. In attempt to help law enforcement officials find the killer, Johnia's family has asked America's Most Wanted to air Johnia's case. They have fully agreed to showcase Johnia's murder, but require cooperation from the Knox County Sheriff's office to do so. Sheriff Tim Hutchison has, so far, refused to cooperate with the show. Please show your support for our effort in finding Johnia's killer by signing the petition below.

Urge Sheriff Hutchison to fully cooperate with America's Most Wanted.
